

KATRIN INCLUSIVE DISPENSERS
Designed for everyone

The New Inclusive Range

A practical approach to creativity

Our ten new state-of-the-art dispensers are designed with everyone in mind and good functionality at heart. The dispensers are effortless and ergonomic to use, across most ages and physical abilities. Maintaining the Dispensers is also more practical with innovative features to aid the daily work of maintenance personnel.

Just choose white or black

The new range is an optimized mix of products for every washroom and workplace ranging from hotels, top restaurants and offices to health clinics and industrial factories. Both clean white and stylish black dispensers adapt to high-end and low-end washrooms. All Katrin tissue papers fit in the appropriate new dispensers. Choosing the correct dispenser for your needs is simple.

A responsible and sustainable choice

Our products comply with the highest ethical standards to make choosing Katrin a sustainable and responsible choice. The dispensers are also economical, cutting down on excessive use of paper. Inclusively designed Katrin dispensers are the right choice for every washroom and, of course, they fulfil all relevant EU regulations* covering businesses and public institutions and hygiene facilities.

* The European Accessibility Act (EAA) forms part of the European Union's effort to implement the UN Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities (UNCRPD) in line with its European Disability Strategy 2010-2020. It aims to remove barriers for disabled people to ensure full economic, social, and political participation in society. Through the harmonisation of accessibility requirements throughout the EU, the functioning of the Internal Market will be improved, and ultimately, people of all abilities will find it easier to exercise their citizenship rights within the Union. http://ec.europa.eu/smart-regulation/impact/planned_ia/docs/2012_just_025_european_accessibility_act_en.pdf

Inclusiveness

Designing for everyone

Our mission was to create dispensers that are as accessible as possible and can easily be used by almost anyone, anywhere. Inclusive design focuses on the broader scope of users: young and elderly, able-bodied and those less able-bodied.

Building a great hygiene experience

The new dispenser range was designed in collaboration with industry experts and a wide variety of end-users. We gathered valuable insights for building a great hygiene experience for everybody from interviews, observations and through running laboratory tests.

New features, less hassle

The starting point was making the dispensers as ergonomic as possible. The full-face push surfaces are effortless to operate. Contrasting colours on dispenser openings show clearly how the dispensers are used and maintained. Transparent side panels show how much tissue, soap or other consumable is left, saving time for facility management personnel and maximising usability.

Every washroom needs its own cleanliness solution

You should choose your tissues, towels, dispensers and other washroom equipment based on the number of people using the washroom and their level of expectation. Consider these two topics:

1. How many users and visitors?

- Many visitors or infrequent visitors?
- Constant flow or sporadic peaks?

2. What are the user's expectations?

- What is expected of the quality of the towel?
- Are there special requirements for dispensers or refills?

Selecting the right hand towel dispenser

A higher level of expectation means a demand for better quality towels and tissue, as well as the stylish dispensers and accessories. An increasing number of users means demand for higher capacity dispensers.

Responsibility – The inspiration for a universally better user experience

The most practical way that we can help you to reduce your footprint is to make dispensers which use tissue papers economically. Our long-lasting dispensers are only made of materials that can be safely reintroduced into the production cycle. Dispensers are simple to disassemble and when recycled, the materials can easily be separated from one another. The dispensers are made from durable ABS and polypropylene plastic both of which are totally reusable.

Understanding all needs

Katrin dispensers can be placed wherever required and be used by practically everyone. This is beneficial especially for public institutions, which must comply with state guidelines for accessibility. E.g. the European Accessibility Act sets guidelines reinforcing state and local regulations.

Certified Security

Our certificates ensure that our customers know that our cleanliness products are made responsibly from ethical suppliers and certified forests and are safe to use. We stay true to our quality standards to guarantee that our cleanliness solutions provide the best hygiene that everyone deserves.

To ensure that our newly designed dispenser will work as desired (product shelf life, safety and handling) we have also had it certified by the independent testing facility Bureau Veritas. Bureau Verities is one of the world's leading and most respected inspection, classification and certification institutions and boasts more than 66,500 employees in more than 140 countries. Through its certification it helps us ensure that our new dispensers meet all quality and safety standards/requirements.
